

I think that the FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law protections. Since I got on the list I don't have to stop doing whatever I'm doing and answer a soliciting phone call. I used to get 3 or 4 a day (before I went to work). Then I would receive some after I went to work. Now I don't get any and it sure is nice. I know the solicitors think they have a right to call people but I have just as much right not to be called. My motto is don't call me, I'll call you. People shouldn't be harrassed at home during their time. These solicitors should go out and get a real job.
